What this course offers

This hands-on, practical course provides a formal qualification in distribution and logistics. Whether you're already in the industry or looking for a new career, with a shortage of qualified people in this area, distribution is a great choice. This course is taught by supportive tutors from industry, using theory-based learning backed up by practical training on site, as well as work placements in industry.

This is a full-time 19 week course, including holidays (if applicable). Parttime study is available for those already working in the industry.

The course fee of $3,475 covers all costs of the programme. "Fees Free" may apply. (<https://www.feesfree.govt.nz/>) There are other options including StudyLink for Student Loans www.studylink.govt.nz.

Transport to the course is available if you live out of town.

Career Opportunities include a wide variety of roles in distribution workplaces: storeperson / picker packer / dispatcher / yards person / administration / operations.

Entry Criteria: You must: be 16 years of age or older, and hold NCEA Level 1 or equivalent.
