Class 2 Truck Learner Licence Course

Truck drivers in NZ usually earn between $20 and $30 an hour. A Class 2 truck licence allows you to drive a heavy vehicle up to 18,000kgs or a vehicle with two axles. Before you can sit your Class 2 Learner Licence, you need to have held a full Class 1 (car) licence for at least six months if you're under 25, or at least 3 months if you're over 25.

There are two stages to get your class 2 truck licence. The first is to pass a medical certificate and the NZTA Class 2 Learner Licence Test, and secondly you need to complete the Class 2 Full Licence Course and assessment. The learner licence test consists of 35 questions which are a mix of Class 2 specialist questions, and general road code questions. The pass mark is a minimum of 33 correct answers.

This 3-Hour Learner Licence Course takes you through the theory needed to pass the Class 2 Specific questions of the learner licence. Practice questions are provided on the course. Students are also encouraged to self-study the general road code questions before sitting the NZTA test.

Course Cost: $150 including GST.

Medical fees (approx. $80) and Licence Test ($93.90) costs are not included in the course fee. Refer to the NZTA page for more details.
